ROCK OF AGES ^(H)

Wed 11-Sat 14 Sept | 7.30pm | £12.00

It is 1987, and the fabled West Hollywood club, The Bourbon Room, is the seedy, sordid, vibrant heart of the Sunset Strip. The music venue has seen better days, but as run by chilled-out former rock impresario Dennis Dupree and tended to by Dennis's mischievous assistant Lonny, it is the essence of rock and roll. When bright-eyed young hopeful Sherrie Christian, a small-town girl who wants to make it as an actress, arrives in town, she bumps into Drew, a Bourbon Room busboy with dreams of rock and roll stardom.

Rock of Ages is a big, brash, energetic tribute to classic rock, to over-the-top ballads and fierce guitar, to the gritty glamour and rough energy of the Sunset Strip. This jukebox musical features '80s hits such as 'We Built this City', 'I Wanna Rock', and 'Don't Stop Believin'.

Presented by one of Northern Ireland's leading amateur theatre groups.

BRUISER THEATRE COMPANY PRESENTS

WASTED BY KAT WOODS

Sat 21 Sept | 7.30pm | £15.00 |
£13.00 [conc] | £7.00 [students] ✓

'Wasted', by award-winning playwright Kat Woods, is a socio-political play that explores themes of binge drinking and sexual assault.

Join Oli, Emma and their friends on a night out drinking, flirting, and clubbing. The morning after the night before ensues and any event can only be remembered through the blurry haze of a dubious hangover.

'Wasted' illuminates that grey area in the sexual relationship after a few too many drinks. The characters are not sure what has happened, both suffering from post-alcoholic amnesia. They are both secure in the fact that sex happened but, where alcohol puts the female in a state unable legally to consent to sex, our characters continually ask 'what happened' as they are marched through the legal system.

This event takes place in our Studio Theatre with an unreserved, tiered seating layout.

Please note this performance will contain strong language and adult content. Recommended for age 16+.

THE MAN WHO SWALLOWED A DICTIONARY

Wed 25 Sept | 8.00pm | £20.00 | £18.00 [conc]

Produced by Martin Lynch and Nikki Turner | Directed by
Matthew McElhinney | Starring Paul Garrett

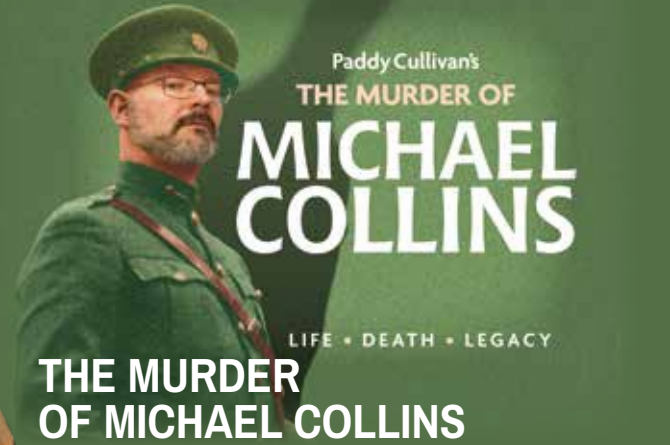

Following outstanding success in 2023, Bobby Niblock's new play, 'The Man Who Swallowed A Dictionary' returns.

This one-man show chronicles the remarkable life of ex-UVF and PUP politician, David Ervine from the backstreets of East Belfast and imprisonment in Long Kesh, to political negotiations at the White House and Downing Street. And from his personal family tragedies to becoming the man who is widely regarded as the one who did most to deliver the Protestant working class to support the Good Friday Agreement.

As well as being an important figure in the history of Ulster loyalism, Ervine was also known for his grasp of the English language and capacity for using 'big words' in television interviews, hence the title of the play. It's a remarkable story, providing a great insight into not just the man but the Protestant community in the most turbulent period of the Troubles.

Playwright, Bobby Niblock, who served time in prison alongside Ervine, has written several plays exploring the politics of the Protestant working class community.

Please note this performance will contain strong language. Recommended for age 16+.

THE MURDER OF MICHAEL COLLINS

Thurs 26 Sept | 8.00pm | £15.00 | £13.00 [conc]

Historical entertainer Paddy Cullivan brings you the incredible story of the death of Ireland's first Commander-in-Chief. An audio-visual spectacular featuring hundreds of images, shocking new research and incredible songs, Paddy dares to unravel the secrets and lies around what happened that fateful day in Béal na mBlath, 22 August 1922.

Did Michael Collins have a secret son in London? Was he really going to keep to the Anglo-Irish Treaty or was he planning to resume the war? If the anti-treaty side shot him, why did the Free State instigate a massive cover-up? How can one of the most important men in Irish history have no autopsy report, no investigation, inquest or even a death cert? And who really shot Michael Collins? Why is there such reticence from certain quarters - to this day - to find out the truth?

No less complex or mysterious than the death of JFK and with as many twists and turns, 'The Murder of Michael Collins' is a fascinating rollercoaster ride that will change your perceptions of Irish history forever...

RIVER TALL PRODUCTIONS LTD PRESENTS

THE MARTIN HURSON STORY ^H

Thurs 3-Sat 5 Oct | 8.00pm | £25.00

SOLD OUT

After 46 days on hunger strike Martin Hurson died on 13 July 1981. This young Tyrone man from the Cappagh | Galbally area was the sixth person to die on hunger strike in Long Kesh following the deaths of Bobby Sands, Francis Hughes, Ray McCreesh, Patsy O'Hara and Joe McDonnell.

Gerry Cunningham [author of 'Blood Upon The Rose'] tells the story of this country lad in a heartbreaking and honest way. There is no happy ending, no fairytale story. Cunningham, along with an excellent cast, tell it exactly as it was in those very dark days of 1981.

The story of Martin Hurson begins with his arrest and brutal interrogation in Omagh Barracks. His eventual sentence and participation in the no wash protests leads to his joining the second hunger strike in May 1981. This is a hard-hitting story performed by a brilliant cast with no frills and no sense of triumphalism. It's a story that could be told, should be told and will be told for future generations to appreciate and understand the horrors of those dark days of our recent past.

CREAT-ED CONSULTING

ELIZABETH SHARKEY LIVE IN CONVERSATION: WHY BRITAIN ROCKED

Thurs 10 Oct | 8.00pm | £12.00 | £10.00 [conc]

'Why Britain Rocked: How Rock Became Roll and Took Over the World' travels deep into Britain's history to trace the events that led to its twentieth century musical explosion. Completely rewriting the history of British pop music, 'Why Britain Rocked' argues that The Beatles' arrival that so surprised the world really shouldn't have been a surprise at all.

Sharkey starts the story in Celtic Britain and follows the migration of the peoples who carried their music from the British Isles to the southern states, laying the foundations of America's folk music and ultimately, rock n' roll.

Back on British shores, Sharkey reveals how Henry VIII ensured Britain's art colleges became feeder schools for Top of the Pops; she identifies the Celtic inheritance of superstars from Lonnie Donegan and The Beatles, to David Bowie, John Lydon, Kate Bush, Johnny Marr, Noel Gallagher and Ed Sheeran.

An audience Q&A with Elizabeth will follow the talk.

WILLIAM CAULFIELD IN MORE OUR JIMMY

Fri 18 Oct | 8.00pm | £23.50

The comedy characters that were created by the late James Young many years ago were much-loved throughout Northern Ireland. They all return in this new show. Characters such as the much-loved Derek, the outrageous Orange Lily, the affable drunk Willie Simpson, the money savvy man from Ballymena William McFettridge, bosom pals Emily Beattie and Lily O'Condriac, the little schoolboy and the wordsmith and trade unionist Billy Hulk, along with many others, will grace the stage with sketches, monologues and song.

There is, of course, no need to have any knowledge of James Young to enjoy the show. This is a night of riotous laughter and some poignant moments delivered by characters kept alive by comedian and actor William Caulfield that you will recognise from the cities and villages of Northern Ireland in this present day.

"There's queers in every county, homosexuals in every hamlet, gays in every gable. And tonight, you'll be talking to some of them."

As the 70's rage on, the telephone rings...

'Callings' follows five queer people who found sanctuary and community on the other end of the phone by seeking solace in Cara-Friend - a befriending service set up in the 1970's to support the many hidden LGBTQ+ individuals across the north of Ireland.

'Callings' poignantly and powerfully expresses how even simple acts of connection can change the course of a life, and how during oppressive times, a gang of bright and brilliant queer people crafted a community to save themselves and each other.

From rallying against the Save Ulster from Sodomy campaign to revelling in the right to exist won through the Dudgeon vs UK trial, 'Callings' looks back at the historical challenges faced by LGBTQ+ communities, and celebrates just how far we've come.

"Someone out there has been plucking up the courage for god knows how long, tonight they'll pick up the phone and you'll be there for them...."

This event takes place in our Studio Theatre with an unreserved, tiered seating layout.

Contains mild adult language and adult themes.

Callings is presented with funding from Arts Council Ireland, and Culture Ireland, in partnership with Cara-Friend. Kabosh is funded by the Arts Council of Northern Ireland, Belfast City Council and the Foyle Foundation.

GRAFT ROGHA - RING OF GULLION HANDCRAFTS & ART

13 Sept - 2 Nov | Gallery

Graft - to work, combine an idea or system, relating to botanic propagation.

This network of artists has supported each other for many years while also forging individual creative paths. They are connected regionally and thematically by the landscape and people of South Armagh. Addressing this long-standing relationship, the group present their collaboration, GRAFT. A circular process by which each artist has loaned an example of their own work to a colleague and then taken inspiration from another's to develop interconnected artwork. Aptly, the acronym ROGHA is also the Irish word for choice, as passionate collectors will discover a meld of disciplines here, amongst a special gathering of accomplished artists.

With this exchange, Mary Cowan Ceramics, Caóilfionn Murphy O'Hanlon Textiles, Tracey McVerry Glass, Rozzi Kennedy Painting, Karen Murphy Fine Art, Mary Larkin Textiles and Diane McKeivitt Mixed Media have found meeting points to grow their working practices as one.

THE PASSING ON OF OLD SKILLS - EMMA STINSON

13 Sept - 2 Nov | Foyer Walls

The designer and manufacturer of 'Simply E Designs', Emma Stinson, tells her story of how three generations of saddlery family skills have been passed down to her. Emma hails from a local family of saddlers 'Stinson's'. Emma designs and manufactures a sustainable high-end fashion accessory brand.

In this exhibition she demonstrates her story through her leather handbag range. She explains that "mixing old with new" is possible as she keeps both the traditional leather craft alive as a testament to her family heritage, while creating contemporary accessories for the modern wearer. Each one of her handbag creations shows individuality alongside offering a timeless investment for your wardrobe.

FLIGHT OF FANTASY - JACINTA O'REILLY

9 Nov - 11 Jan | Foyer Walls

'Flight Of Fantasy' is a captivating exhibition that harmoniously blends abstract landscapes with intricate collages and patterned drawings. The exhibition is a journey through colour, texture, and abstract forms meticulously created over several years, both at the Tyrone Guthrie Centre and the Cill Rialaig Arts Centre. The intense layering technique used in many of the works gives them a sculptural quality, blurring the lines between painting and sculpture.

A dedicated environmentalist, O'Reilly explores her profound relationship with the earth through the materials she works with. Her use of gold and abstract mark-making in her paintings is a testament to her reverence for the planet and stands out as a symbolic representation of her environmental consciousness.

O'Reilly explains her creative process, "I enjoy starting with a shape and losing myself in the drawing. Tearing up old drawings and using a range of paper in the work is an important part of my process. Within the abstract acrylic paintings layering of a range of mixed media is incorporated which adds to the depth and complexity of the work."

Visitors are invited to lose themselves in the intricate details and vibrant layers of this thought-provoking collection.
